SAY MEN. The men felt that the railroads show a disposition to disregard their sacrifice of the demand for time and half overtime.

A. B. Garretson advised them to be patient and assured them that decisive action was expected soon. Before the meeting the four brotherhood leaders decided not to issue a statement expected for publication to-day.

Mr. Garretson refused to comment on the situation other than to say, It is in the hands of the President. Until he acts there is nothing for us to say or do." Other leaders did not hesitate to say, however, that plans have been prepared for instant action in case the railroad managers decline to accept the President's pro-

Many Western railroads will be crippled or thrown into receivers' hands if the railroad brotherhoods are successful in their demands, Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northrn railroad, declared to-day.

Nearly 50 per cent. decrease in crops in the Northwest is indicated by present reports, he said, and for that reason Western roads in particular will not have a large margin of earnings—as they did this year—to meet increased expense.

"We have 5,000 idle cars on the Great Northern." he continued.

"There is certain to be a large failing off in earnings due to present crop conditions. The effect on Western roads is evident.

crop conditions. The effect on West-ern roads is evident.

"Such an extra burden of expense as is contemplated by this eight-hour demand would not only cut off all possibility of dividends and exten-sions, but throw a number of West-ern railroads into receiverships and cripple their usefulness to the terri-tory they serve."
